

ANALYST

The international research and consulting company "M-Vector" announces the vacancy of "Analyst / Project manager"!

If you are looking for a job for continuous personal and career growth, ready for a lot of interesting work, a solid team of professionals is important for you, then we are waiting for your resume!

What we expect from you?

- Education: higher, preferably mathematic, economic, marketing, sociological;
- Basic knowledge of economics and statistics, marketing;
- Good experience in using PC (MS Office, including MS PowerPoint), excellent skills in MS Excel (pivot tables, work with a large array of information, working experience with macros);
- Knowledge and experience in SPSS will be an advantage;

Personal qualities that we appreciate:

- Analytical mind, attentiveness, perseverance, systematic thinking.
- Initiative;
- Desire for professional and personal growth;
- Motivation for success;
- Responsibility;
- Desire to work in a team;
- Good performance.

What will your tasks be?

- development of technical proposals for customers;
- development of the project schedule;
- development and testing of questionnaires;
- work with databases, applications, graphs;
- analysis, checking and formatting of the received information;
- preparation of the project final report;
- development of recommendations and presentation of results for clients.

We offer you:

- convenient working schedule from 08:30 to 17:00, from Monday to Friday;
- paid probation period + education;
- opportunity for professional development and career growth;
- competitive salary level;
- participation in the implementation of various and interesting projects;
- become a part of an active and friendly team :)

For those candidates who are interested in vacancy, please contact us by phone: 0772 669 686, or by e-mail hr@m-vector.com

You can find information about the company on the website www.m-vector.com